

MEET the AUTHOR MARK IVESON

Born in Gateshead, Mark grew up in London and returned to the North East as a teenager. A massive film buff with a love of the horror genre, he counts Vincent Price and Peter Cushing as his movie heroes.

Mark began writing film, theatre and gig reviews for several work related periodicals. Including: vampire magazine Bite Me, the movie webmag Shadowlocked and many more

Mark Iveson will be talking about his book: Vincent Price The British Connection covers the UK phase of the actor's long and distinguished career. In addition to his horror output, which includes four career defining performances, the book also focuses on his strong links to Britain.

MEET the ARTIST LUCY DAWLISH

Lucy is a bright and lively painter who loves the world around her.

The countryside, seascapes, landscapes, sunsets and sunrises are so beautiful. LucyD finds that she connects with the surroundings spiritually, saying, "seeing and experiencing this scenery like being at one with the earth" needless to say, this is her inspiration for her paintings.

Painting is a feeling, it's an expression of a single moment in time, be it calm or be it exciting.

LucyD will be showing a selection of her works of Vistas of the North East and Pembrokeshire
